Enchanted Evening – take primary lead on this, with adult help

Would we want parents to attend the parent meeting?

Suggest using “Way to Live: Christian Practices for Teens” by Dorothy C. Bass & Don C. Richter

While somewhat dated in terms of pictures (published in 2002 by Upper Room Books) the topics are good. There are 19 topics in the book. I have checked the book out of the Resource Center for review. The book is still in print and available from Cokesbury for $12.59. Good starting point

Another possibility for more topical study is to back to LinC (Living in Christ). Drawback is it's preprinted, so no editing and tends to be pretty simplistic and bland.

A couple new ones we can research further:

Renegade Gospel by Mike Slaughter about rebel Jesus

Spice Rack a new downloadable curriculum for middle school and high school age. Sounds like a remake of LinC. Can't find out anything in depth about it.
